Victorious & Fallacious

10000 BC X now

Willing to survive

swords X words

no religion X fake religion

scavenger X symposia

Searching for new lands

to discover X to wipe out

A LuNaMan asks:

"Which one represents the humanity?"

Fictitious Muse is being silent.

"It seems scavengers had sharpened their swords searching for new lands. They had enough arrogance to discover. And yet, they needed to kill to survive."

FM: "I cannot see any point of tricks, lies, ambushes and hooks, belonging to the latest generations."

→ Their words are scumbly.
→ Their world is crumbly."

A wise LuWoMan interrupts:

"Words beat swords!"
